My grandmother's house in the village

My grandmother lives in a small village near a forest. Her house is old, but it is warm and quiet. The house has three rooms: a kitchen, a bedroom and a living room. In the kitchen there is a wooden table, a stove and a small window. The window looks at the garden.

The garden is my grandmother's favourite place. There are apple trees, a small bench and a wooden well. In summer she sits by the well and reads books. She has a black cat called Murka. Murka usually sleeps under the bench in the afternoon.

On Sundays my brother and I visit my grandmother. We take the bus from the city to it is only one hour. She always makes a simple lunch: bread, cheese, fresh tomatoes from the garden, and tea. After lunch we walk to the river or play with Murka. In the evening we take the bus home. My grandmother says, "The village is quiet. The city is too fast for me."
